SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION

Please replace the first complete paragraph on page 3, beginning on line 4, which starts with "The object is" with the following amended paragraph:

The object is solved by the differential pressure sensor ~~of claim 1.~~ Additional advantages and features of the invention are provided by the dependent claims, the description and the drawings which comprises a measuring mechanism which has: a chamber on the high-pressure side that is sealed by a first dividing membrane and filled with a transfer medium; a chamber on the low-pressure side that is sealed by a second dividing membrane and filled with a transfer medium; a pressure sensitive element which separates the two chambers; and a throttle for damping overload pulses. The throttle is arranged between the pressure sensitive element and the second dividing membrane.
